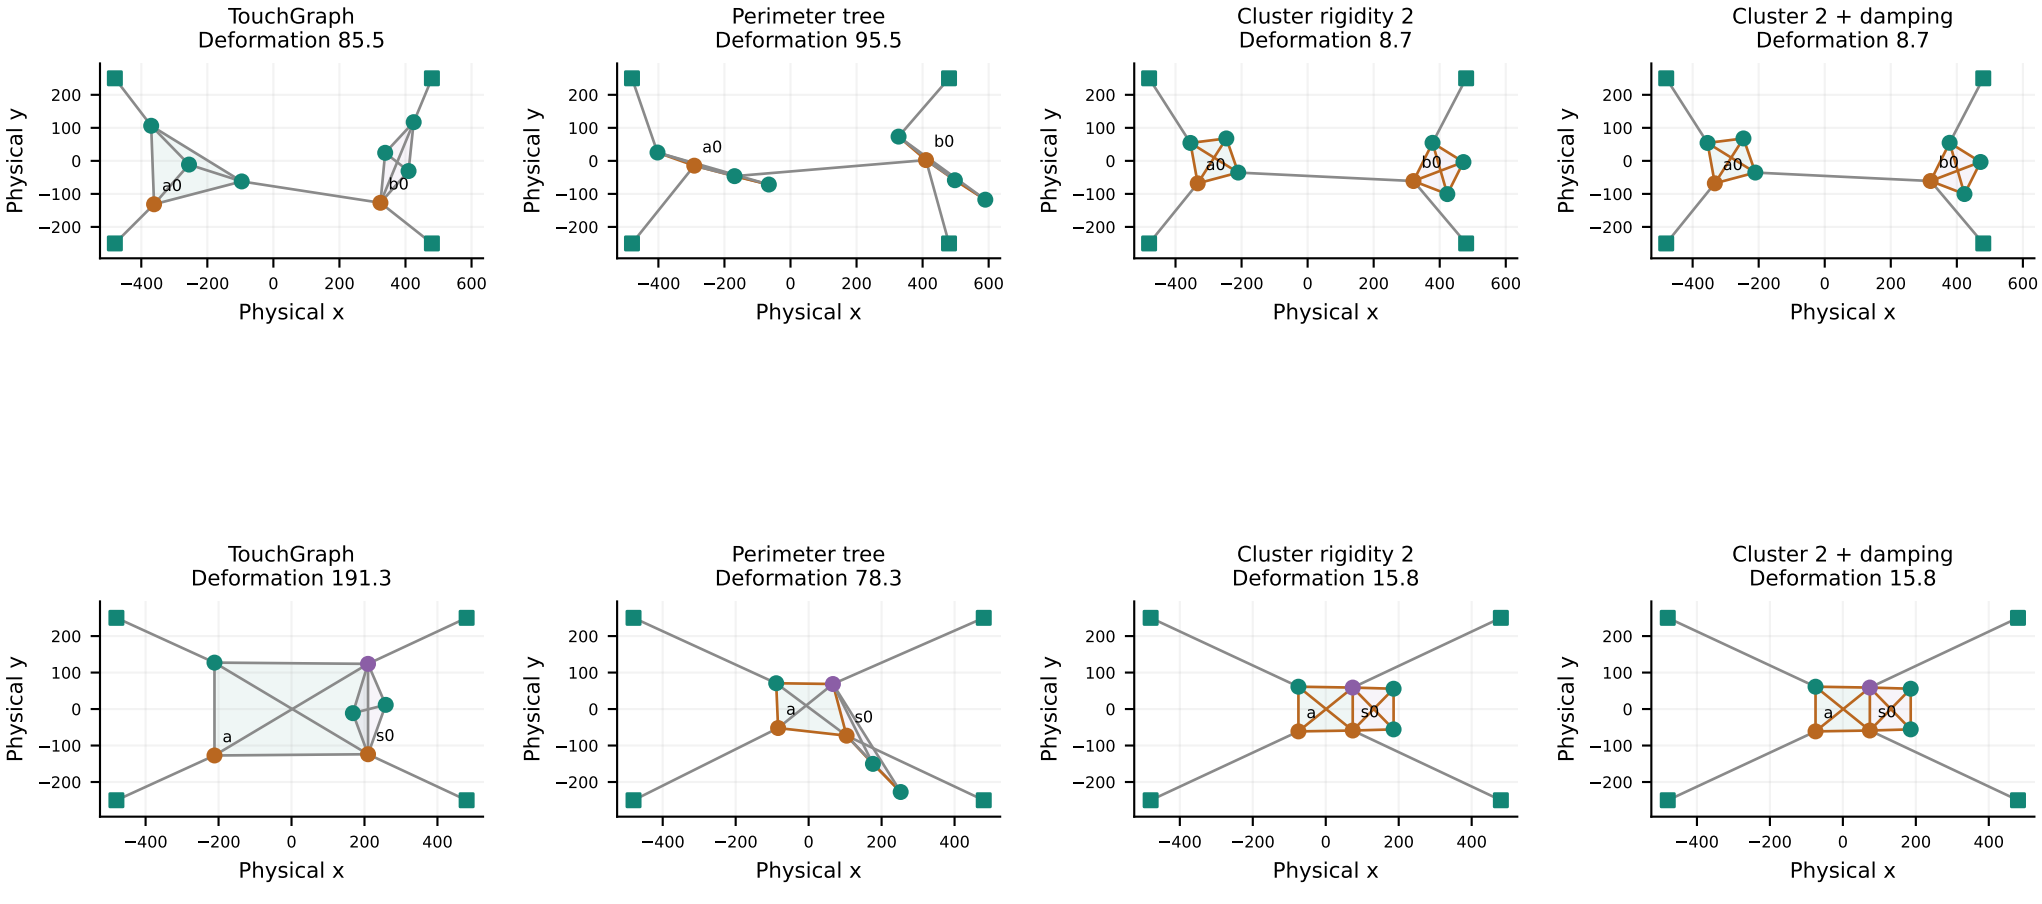
F7. Dense and overlapping clusters under strong boundary load



F7. First declared seed 0x1234abcd; upper row disjoint cliques, lower row cliques sharing two members. Final axes match within each row. Squares are pinned context anchors. Convex shading denotes the same memberships in every condition, independently of activation. Cluster reinforcement retains diagonals and shared links; tree projection retains them as ordinary context. Straight physical geometry, not a browser screenshot or measured label layout.